VI Consortium's Ernice Gilbert will interview Governor Albert Bryan on Monday evening at 6:00 p.m., both Government House and VI Consortium have made known.

The interview, set to take place in Government House on St. Croix, will be Mr. Gilbert's second interview with the governor since Mr. Bryan took office. In June, Mr. Gilbert interviewed the territory's leader in the courtyard of Government House on St. Croix. There, the VI Consortium publisher sought answers on a range of issues. Now, just over a year since taking office, Mr. Bryan has had some time to get a portion of his agenda items moving.

"What you'll see on Monday is what Virgin Islanders have come to expect from my interviews with the territory's leaders, which is my focus on the tough and pertinent issues affecting our territory," said Mr. Gilbert.

The interview will be streamed live on the Consortium's TV-like video viewer on the website, along with its Facebook platform.

Simply come back to the website at 6:00 p.m. Monday or head over to the Facebook page, especially if you want to interact via the comments section, to watch the interview.
