

Image not found or type unknown

Elderly Woman Found Unresponsive in St. John Home, Pronounced Dead

92-year-old Lucy Fessale-Ferguson dies; police investigate circumstances

Community Center / Published On March 09, 2024 06:14 AM /

Staff Consortium March 09, 2024

Image not found or type unknown

ST. JOHN — A 92-year-old woman was pronounced dead on arrival (DOA) by the V.I. Police Department officers on Thursday in Estate Grunwald, St. John. The deceased was identified as Lucy Fessale-Ferguson, originally from St. Lucia.

According to the police report, the incident was reported at approximately 10:51 p.m. on the same day. The report detailed that a male, who had brought dinner to his mother, found her unresponsive. He immediately sought help from emergency medical services. Despite attempts at life-saving measures, Fessale-Ferguson succumbed to her ailments.

The case is currently under investigation by the VIPD to determine the circumstances surrounding Fessale-Ferguson's death.

© Viconsortium 2026