Governor Albert Bryan, Jr.

Governor Albert Bryan Jr. will be out of the U.S. Virgin Islands from March 25 to April 1 for an official visit aimed at strengthening international relations with Barbados and St. Vincent and the Grenadines, Government House has announced.

The administration said the visit is part of Mr. Bryan's efforts to build stronger ties and explore opportunities for collaboration and mutual growth between the U.S. Virgin Islands and these Caribbean nations. After his stay in Barbados, the governor is set to hold discussions with Prime Minister Ralph Gonsalves in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, aiming to foster deeper cooperation.

The territory's leader is expected to return to the territory on April 1. In his absence, Lt. Governor Tregenza Roach will serve as the acting governor, ensuring continuity of governance and administration in the U.S. Virgin Islands.
