The event kicks off on June 7th at the Mount Zion New Testament Church of God, starting at 7:00 p.m. On June 8th, the conference continues at the Way of the Cross Baptist Church from 9:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and later at 7:00 p.m. at the same location. The concluding session on June 9th is also held at the Way of the Cross Baptist Church, with sessions from 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., and another from 10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Pastor Enoch King, the host pastor of Way of the Cross Baptist Church in St. Croix and event host, emphasized the conference's goal of "bringing believers together to foster unity and progress in their faith journey."

Scheduled from June 7th to June 9th, the conference will host sessions that encourage insightful workshops aimed at deepening the understanding of the Christian faith and embracing the mission of becoming effective witnesses for God.

The empowerment conference will feature notable speakers such as Pastor John Jenkins from First Baptist Church Glenarden, who is renowned for his dynamic and engaging teachings. Additional speakers include Bishop Carl A. Richardson, Dr. Gary Rohrmayer, and Pastor Daryl Archibald, each bringing unique perspectives to guide conversations closer to God and explore innovative ways to share the gospel.

Interactive discussions, networking opportunities, and breakout sessions are designed to equip participants with tools and motivation to strengthen their faith and community bonds. "Move Now is a call to action," stated Pastor King, underscoring the conference's commitment to inspiring attendees to actively engage in their communities and church activities.

As the Christian community on St. Croix looks forward to the conference, the organizers assure that the program is structured to support all aspects of Christian life, from pastoral leadership to everyday conversations about faith. With a special focus on unity and spiritual growth, the Move Now Empowerment Conference sets the stage for what is anticipated to be a transformative event for all attendees.
