After a successful first season in St. Thomas, the popular comedy series "Chattahbox" is back, bringing bigger laughs and an even larger lineup for its second season. This year, the series is expanding its reach by including St. Croix, offering comedy enthusiasts in both the U.S. Virgin Islands a chance to experience the fun.

"Chattahbox" Season 2 is set to feature top-tier comedic talent, with a series of shows scheduled on both islands. Headlining the events are comedy heavyweights like Michael Colyar, Majah Hype, Drew Thomas, Lil' Duval, and the season finale's star, Gary Owen, also known as "Mr. Get Some." Local comedian Dutty Heart from St. Croix will also be joining the lineup, offering a local twist with his unique humor.

Promoter John Engerman, who has been instrumental in bringing the series to life, expressed his excitement about the Virgin Islands' readiness for top-notch comedy entertainment. "Virgin Islanders are more than ready for this," said Engerman. "With the newly renovated Island Center in St. Croix, we now have the perfect venues to showcase some of the best comedic talent out there. These shows are about more than just laughter—they're about giving the islands a fresh wave of world-class entertainment. Season 2 will bring it all, and the community is going to love every minute."

In addition to the free launch party on September 20th at Muse on the Waterfront in St. Thomas, the season will kick off with Michael Colyar on October 18 in St. Thomas and October 19 in St. Croix. Following Colyar, Majah Hype will perform on November 15 in St. Thomas and November 16 in St. Croix. After a holiday break, Lil' Duval will bring his unique brand of comedy to St. Thomas on January 17 and St. Croix on January 18. Drew Thomas will follow with performances on February 21 in St. Thomas and February 22 in St. Croix. The season will culminate with Gary Owen on March 21 in St. Thomas and March 22 in St. Croix.

This season's shows will be held at two premier locations: Muse on the Waterfront in St. Thomas and the newly refurbished Island Center in St. Croix. The performances are set for the third weekend of each month from October through March, further establishing the Virgin Islands as a growing hub for comedy in the Caribbean.

To celebrate the upcoming season, "Chattahbox" will host a free launch party on September 20th at Muse on the Waterfront, benefiting the Nana Baby Home. The event offers a sneak peek of the upcoming season, giving fans a chance to mingle and enjoy a taste of what's to come.

Tickets for the full season are now available on museusvi.com, with special discounts and free gift bags for season ticket holders. Whether you're in St. Thomas or St. Croix, "Chattahbox" promises to deliver "Seriously Funny" entertainment that will keep audiences laughing all season long. Make sure to mark your calendars and join the fun.
