The school announced that the production will feature students taking audiences through the whimsical world of Horton the Elephant, the Cat in the Hat, and other memorable figures from the works of Dr. Seuss.

According to the school, the musical is built around colorful characters, energetic musical numbers, and messages centered on friendship, loyalty, and standing up for others. The production is also intended to showcase the work and talent of the student cast and crew, who the school said have been preparing diligently for the performances.

Free Will Baptist Christian School said the show celebrates creativity, teamwork, and the joy of storytelling.

Performances are scheduled to take place at the Free Will Baptist Christian School Upper-Campus Auditorium on Friday, March 27, at 7 p.m., and on Saturday, March 28, at 12:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are now available. The school said they can be purchased by visiting freewillschool.com and clicking the ticketing link, or by going directly to the ticket form. Families, friends, and guests are being encouraged to purchase tickets early because seating is limited.

The school is inviting the community to attend and described the production as an unforgettable adventure from Whoville and beyond.

For more information, the public can contact the school at (340) 778-8030.

Free Will Baptist Christian School said it exists to provide a quality Christian education in a safe and loving environment which, in partnership with home and church, prepares each student scholastically, socially, and spiritually.
