ST. CROIX -- The Virgin Islands Water and Power Authority (WAPA) has announced an emergency power interruption for Monday night from 11:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m., to feeder #1 located in downtown Christiansted, from the library to the St. Croix Foundation building.

According to WAPA, the power interruption is to allow crews to repair a blown underground transformer that was discovered on Sunday.

Motorists are asked to observe the flagger's directions in the area while crews work to restore service.

For more information call the Line Department at 773-0150 or email communications@viwapa.vi.
