The Caribbean Writer, an international, refereed, literary journal with a Caribbean focus, is announcing a submission call for its 31st Edition, a press release the University of the Virgin Islands issued on Friday says.

Issues unique to the Caribbean should be central to the work, or the work should reflect a Caribbean heritage, experience, or perspective, according to the release.

The theme of Volume 31 is: “New Vistas: An Evolving Caribbean.” We welcome short stories, essays, poems, interviews, personal narratives and one-act plays highlighting this theme.

Only previously unpublished work will be considered and brief biographical facts must be submitted. All contact information and title of the manuscript should be on a separate page. Only the title should appear on the manuscript.

The Caribbean Writer is also soliciting colorful, eye-catching, Caribbean artwork for the cover of that issue as well.
