ST. CROIX -- The family of Creola Jones is appealing to Virgin Islanders to help in the search for their missing loved one, V.I.P.D. Media Specialist announced on Thursday.

The 41-year-old disappeared after arriving here with her husband. She did not call her mother as often as she used to; and after several weeks the mother became worried.

Ms. Jones is described as a gentle and caring woman, whose disappearance is out of character. She is approximately five feet seven inches, has black dreadlocks and brown eyes.

Police are urging anyone who has seen Ms. Jones or knows her whereabouts to contact 911 immediately, and advise that it is an emergency.
