While making closing remarks during a press conference in St. Thomas on Tuesday, Governor Kenneth Mapp indulged in a little self-deprecation. He spoke of how he once attempted to weigh himself, and the scale responded by stating, "One person at a time, please," a telling sign that the governor's weight represented two or more persons.

The crowd roared with laughter.

So in light of Mr. Mapp's major plan to transform health and wellness in the territory, we thought you'd enjoy a lighthearted moment, too.

Watch the video below. Above, the governor is sheltered under an umbrella as he walked to Fort Christianvaern during a Memorial Day commemoration in May.
