

The Virgin Islands Consortium

Watch: Central High School Students Demonstrate Business Acumen At Expo

Videos / Published On December 10, 2016 01:02 PM /

Staff December 10, 2016

St. Croix Central High School students on Friday gathered in the facility's auditorium throughout the day for the school's Business Education Department Business Expo, along with school's entrepreneurship club's Business for a Day affair, which saw participants operating make-believe businesses for a day, where they were to learn the innards of running a business.

Below, Shana Francis and Kaylah Morales of the school's business education class demonstrate their project, a class newsletter.

View the original embedded media

