AARP of the Virgin Islands is calling on the community to join it for free virtual bi-weekly financial workshops where practical tips and information are shared "to help you do more with what you have."

At each session a chartered financial consultant focuses on a different topic to help you:

- know what assets you have
- Take stock of what you currently have in terms of your savings and your spending patterns

- Think about your spending habits and opportunities to cut expenses wherever possible.

During the free virtual sessions, no products or services are promoted, AARP said. And they help you decide on the best course of action based on your specific needs.

Future upcoming sessions will be focused on:

- Estate planning
- Managing & protecting your assets
- Savings & planning

The bi-weekly sessions are available starting August 22 from 10:00 am to 10:30 am EST until December. Registration is required so RSVP today here. AARP Virgin Islands said it is "here to help you take on today – and every day, especially during these times."
