NASSAU, Bahamas, CMC – An American Airlines plane with 28 people on board veered off the runway after landing on runway 6 in Freeport on Saturday, officials have confirmed.

Officials said no one was killed or injured as Flight AA4194, an Eagle flight operated by American's wholly-owned Envoy subsidiary, landed from Miami.

However, there are reports of a collapsed gear and the Aircraft Accident Investigation Authority (AAIA) is now investigating the accident.
