

Image not found or type unknown

St. Croix Man Facing 22 Years in Federal Prison for Carjacking, Firearm Offenses

Crime / Published On November 20, 2020 05:12 PM /

Staff Consortium November 20, 2020

Image not found or type unknown

ST. CROIX — Chriss Cepeda, 24, of St. Croix, pleaded guilty Friday in District Court to one count of using a firearm during a violent crime, and one count of carjacking, United States Attorney Gretchen C.F. Shappert announced. The firearm offense carries a mandatory minimum of 7 years imprisonment, a maximum fine of up to $250,000, and a term of supervised release up to 5 years.

The carjacking offense carries a prison sentence of up to 15 years, a maximum fine of up to $250,000, and a term of supervised release up to 5 years. Sentencing is set for March 24, 2021.

According to court documents, in the early morning hours of September 10, 2017, the defendant, along with two co-defendants, broke into the home of Stephen O’Dea and Kathryn Duncan, while brandishing a firearm. The defendants physically assaulted Mr. O’Dea and threatened to kill the couple while demanding money. The defendants forced the couple at gunpoint into the rear seat of Mr. O’Dea’s Toyota Tacoma pick-up truck and drove to the location where Mr. O’Dea had left his wallet. After obtaining the wallet, the defendants fled in the pick-up truck and Mr. O’Dea’s Jeep Wrangler. In addition to the vehicles, defendants stole $200 in currency, two iPhones valued at $600 each, and an iPad valued at $200.

The Virgin Islands Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigations investigated the case. The case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Daniel H. Huston.

© Viconsortium 2025