A screening of the Fireburn documentary and question and answer segment with Angela Golden Bryan is part of Dept. of Education activities for V.I. History Month.

The V.I. Dept. of Education, Division of Virgin Islands Cultural Education, will host a series of activities in celebration of Virgin Islands History Month in March, D.O.E. has announced.

According to the release, the theme for this year's celebration is "Step Into Heritage in Both Mind and Space."

In addition to a calendar of virtual events, outlined below, students are invited to participate in the #VIBigTreeChallenge and the #VIHistoricalSpacesChallenge. Students are reminded to find details of both challenges in their department-issued email account.

On March 11, local ecologist and scholar Olasse Davis gave a live presentation on the “Remarkable Trees” of the Virgin Islands featuring a 300-year-old tree near Basin Triangle on St. Croix.

All virtual activities will be streamed live on the Virgin Islands Department of Education’s Facebook page.
