

The Virgin Islands Consortium

Port Authority Seeking Bids for Project to Repair Red Hook Terminal Restrooms

Community Center / Published On July 18, 2022 10:57 AM /

Staff Consortium July 18, 2022

The V.I. Port Authority has issued an invitation for contractors to bid on a project to renovate the restrooms the Urman V. Fredericks Marine Terminal in Red Hook in St. Thomas.

VIPA said an invitation to bid on the UVF Terminal Restroom Renovation Project is posted on its procurement site, <https://viportbids.ionwave.net>. Responses will be accepted by VIPA until August 16, 2022, at 2 p.m. Atlantic Standard Time.

A non-mandatory pre-bid meeting will be held on July 26, 2022, at 10 a.m. at the UVF Marine Terminal. Questions regarding this bid should be submitted via e-mail to vipaprocurement@viport.com.

This project will be funded via VIPA's operating budget, the authority said.

The UVF Marine Terminal was built in 2007 and is VIPA's busiest passenger ferry port. In addition to the thousands of residents and visitors that use this facility to travel between St. Thomas and St. John every day, over 290,000 visitors and residents traveled between St. Thomas and the British Virgin Islands through Red Hook annually prior to the COVID-19 pandemic.

© Viconsortium 2026