

logo not found or type unknown

Jamaica Bound: CHS and Women In Business Launch Sponsorship for Teacher Appreciation Retreat

Community Center / Published On May 27, 2023 04:38 AM /

Ernice Gilbert May 27, 2023

Image not found or type unknown

Ocho Rios, Jamaica. By. GETTY IMAGES

The administration of St. Croix Central High School, in a special collaboration with Women In Business VI & Caribbean, has announced an exclusive sponsorship opportunity for an upcoming teacher appreciation retreat.

The event is aimed at recognizing and rewarding the relentless efforts of exceptional teachers who have gone the extra mile to shape the future leaders of our society.

The retreat, dubbed "RevitalizED-Salutary Teachers Appreciation Retreat", is an extraordinary opportunity for one deserving educator to take part in a rejuvenating, all-expenses-paid getaway. The objective of this retreat is to offer an immersive and restorative break to an outstanding teacher whose unwavering commitment has significantly contributed to the students' growth and development.

The retreat promises a transformative experience through a series of enlightening workshops, recreational activities, and wellness treatments. It also offers tantalizing culinary experiences amidst the enchanting beauty of Jamaica, providing an inherently restorative backdrop. The event is slated to run for five days, from July 15 to July 20, with an estimated cost of $7,000.

Believing in the power of community collaboration, St. Croix Central High School and Women In Business VI & Caribbean are reaching out to potential sponsors to help make this unique initiative a reality. They have rolled out three levels of sponsorships - Gold ($500 or more), Silver ($250), and Bronze ($166).

Sponsoring this event provides a unique platform for businesses and organizations to show their support for education while gaining valuable exposure within the community. In appreciation of their contribution, sponsors will receive prominent recognition across all promotional materials, including social media posts, press releases, and other event-related communication channels.

The administration is positive that investing in educators is tantamount to investing in the future of the community. Therefore, any support provided towards this initiative will not only contribute to the professional and personal growth of an outstanding teacher but will also highlight the sponsor's commitment to fostering education and societal advancement.

For more information on the sponsorship packages and associated benefits, interested parties are encouraged to contact Ruth King Chaseau at (340) 642-0523 or Rameek Croskey at (340) 473-6744.

St. Croix Central High School and Women In Business VI & Caribbean express their sincere gratitude in advance to all potential sponsors and look forward to a rewarding collaboration that will help to acknowledge and honor the significant efforts of a deserving teacher.