Planning Your Utopia Carnival Cruise & Festival Vacation:

The Utopia Carnival Cruise embarks on its thrilling ten-day voyage on Sunday, April 28. Here's a strategic tip for those planning their time off: Since the cruise begins on a weekend, and if weekends are your usual off days, consider scheduling an 8-day vacation leave starting from Monday, April 29. This allows you to utilize the preceding weekend to make your way to Miami and be on board by April 28. In doing so, you'll find that by the time our adventure concludes, and you're back in Miami on the early morning of May 8, you've only used up those 8 working days. As for heading back home, we recommend making travel arrangements for the afternoon of May 8. This ensures Utopia Carnival cruisers have ample time to catch their flights without any rush.
